Biographical Note

Herbert L. Heller (1908-1983) was a native of New Castle. His family led in establishing New Castle as a rose growing center, and specialized in developing the American Beauty rose. Heller graduated from Indiana University in 1931. He earned advanced degrees at Ball State and Indiana, and began a career in education by teaching American and Indiana history at New Castle High School. He soon moved to college teaching, however, serving as registrar at Hanover College until 1950, teaching education at DePauw from 1950 to 1959, and subsequently holding various positions at Alaska Methodist University, California Western University, and Baldwin-Wallace College. Throughout his life Heller wrote bits of the history of his native town and county, including Newspaper Readings in the History of New Castle (1941-1942), The Schools of New Castle, Indiana – a Documentary History (1970), and Historic Henry County (3 volumes, 1981-1982).
